LASHES FOR BOYS

CHIEF OF POLICE BAYES BELIEVES IN WHIPPING POST.

TERM IN JAIL OR REFORMATORY MAKES VICIOUS YOUTHS WORSE.

Seven of Every Ten Robberies in Kan. sas City, He Says, Are Committed by Youngsters Who Were Given Their First Lesson by Men.

"The whipping post is a method of punishment that should be legalized in Missouri," said Chief of Police Haves to a reporter for The Journal yesterday, while discussing the large amount of petty thievery that is committed by boys. need a whipping post right here in Kansas Nearly all of the robberies that have been reported to the police department during the last six months have been committed by boys. People never suspect them usebreakers, and that is one reason why they can enter and leave a house with much less danger of being apprehended than a man."

"How do boys manage to commit so many of these robberies without being apprehended?" Chief Hayes was asked. "They adopt the same plan in nearly every instance," was the reply. "They hang about a house until they see the members of the family leave home for a trip downtown or an afternoon's call on friends, and then they enter and take their own time in going through the house. They are either provided with skeleton keys or manage to find a door or a window open. Neighbors seldom suspect boys of being bent on robbery. For that reason three or four boys can get together and play around a house while a companion enter: and robs it without being suspected of any

"Wouldn't a term in the state reform school make better citizens of these boys?" was the next question asked Chief Hayes.

"We have sent scores of them to the Boonville school from Jackson county, and a term there did not seem to do them any good," was the reply. "Boys whose ages range from 10 to 17 years cannot be sent to the county jall or workhouse. A term there will make them worse. While in jail they come in contact with hardened criminals, and instead of improving their condition they are made worse. Many of the boys whom we have arrested during the last six months were given their first lesson in crime by men. Boys have been arrested by the police with kits of burgler tools and skeleton keys in their possession. Such lads are bound to become hardened criminals. A term in jall will do them no good, and it appears to be a waste of time to send them to the reform school. A public whipping post for wifebeaters, sneakthieves and minor offenders would, in my opinion, put a stop to much of the thievery and minor offenses that are committed now. Seven of every ten robberies reported to this department during the last six months have been committed by boys. What to do with them is a serious problem. They should be punished in some manner. The whipping post fills my idea of the sort of punishment that should be meted out to these youthful offenders." was the next question asked Chief Hayes.

HAY DEALERS MAY MEET HERE.

Kansas City Dealers Go to Detroit to Pull for Next Year's Convention.

Kansas City's delegation to the National Hay Dealers' convention will go prepared to make a strong fight to bring the convention to this city next year. The convention this year meets at Detroit, and Kansas City will be represented by the following members of the Kansas City following members of the Kansas City Hay Dealers' Association: J. A. Brubaker, J. A. Meefee, J. J. Huffine, Samuel Harden and E. R. Boynton.

The Kansas City association is one of the strongest organizations in the country, and this city is a splendid market for all kinds of hay. From 12,600 to 15,000 cars of hay are handled each year in this market and for that reason the Kansas City hay men think they are entitled to have the convention meet here next year. The territory from which this city draws its supply of hay reports splendid crops this year, and as the crop of hay is reported light in most Eastern sections, it is likely that a larger proportion of the hay of the country will come from here this year than ever before. The Hay Dealers' Association is an important factor in commerce and the securing of the next annual convention would bring a great number of dealers to this city from all over the country.

TALLOW WORKERS STRIKE. Forty Men at S. & S. Packing Plant Disaffected-Complain of Their Treatment.

Despite the ironclad agreement entered into last week between the employes of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger packing house and the management of the plant, forty tallow workers employed there laid down their tools and walked out at 11 o'clock yes terday morning. The men disregarded the agreement which was signed by almost terday morning. The men disregarded the agreement which was signed by almost every employe in the house, and unless they return to work to-day the company will make an attempt to fill their places with union men.

The men quit work because the foreman of the tallow trimmers discharged two negro workmen yesterday morning. It is claimed that their places were filled with non-union men. When the two men went to work one of the old workmen cried "scab" at the two new fellows, and the foreman called him into the office and discharged him. This had a tendency to cause considerable disastisfaction among the men, and when Foreman Dailey called a union man to take the place of the man just discharged the fellow refused. He was then discharged, and another who refused to take the place was also given his time. This was enough, and the remainder of the gang walked out.

The management claims that one of the men stated that they were tired of working for the company, and that the agreement was not considered after being treated as they were. The management claims it will uphold Foreman Dailey in his acts and has discharged men on the slightest morning without the tallow gang, and will "tank" all of the tallow instead of refining it for oll, as has been done heretofore.

The men claim that ever since they started to work last week the company has been giving them decidedly the worst of it and have discharged men on the slightest provocation. The foreman of the gang, they also claim, has made it very unpleasant for all of them, and they simply refused to stand it any longer. All of the men who walked out were called to the timekeeper's window yesterday afternoon and paid off in full. The management refused to state whether or not this meant they were discharged for good, but the men evidentily took it that way. All of them were very peaceable, and as soon as they received their money they left the place.

The butchers and other workmen in the house have paid no attention to the trouble place.

The butchers and other workmen in the house have paid no attention to the trouble as yet, and a number of the butchers stated yesterday that if the places of the strikers were filled with union men, or the services of tallow trimmers dispensed with altogether, they would have no grievance. The other union employes of the house feel the same way, and there is no feer of any the same way, and there is no fear of an-

the same way, and there is no fear of another lockout.

The tallow trimmers were the ones who caused the trouble two weeks ago when the entire plant was closed for eight days, and the agreement which was broken yesterday is one which was drawn up by the union men and accepted by the company.

The men who walked out will hold a meeting this afternoon, but what the purpose of it would be they refused to state. It is thought that they will lay their grievance before the Trades' Assembly at its next meeting. A number of men employed at the plant seemed to think an attempt would be made to call out the other union employes, but this will not be done until after a conference with the company is held, as the butchers and other employes hold their agreement binding.

"DAGO JIM" GOT DRUNK

nrequited Love Has Caused His Downfall and Made of Him a Shining Mark for Police

James Ross, better known to the police as "Dago Jim," was arrested by Officer Moseley yesterday on a charge of wilfully destroying personal property. Ross got drunk and fell through a plate glass window in a restaurant near Third and Walnut streets.

"Dago Jim" was a trusted messenger at police headquarters for several years. Drink caused his downfall. One night while he was drunk he robbed his father of $150 and skipped out to Platte City, Mo. The swarthy little messenger had fallen in love with a Platte City girl and when have money enough to buy a meal. His father forgave him and took him back. But his conduct in stealing his father's savings caused the police to lose faith in him. He was told to take his traps and never come back. Soon after that Ross got mixed up in another love affair and tried to kill his rival in an East Third street saloon. For that offense he was sent to the workhouse for 100 days. Not long ago he was fined in the police ourt for disturbing the peace. "Dago Jim" used to furnish lots of fun

"Dago Jim" used to furnish lots of fun for the police at headquarters while employed as a police messenger. One night he was sent out on an errand and was returning to the station when a policeman in citizens' clothes, and a black mask covering his face, held him up near the city hall market and took a revolver and watch from him. A few minutes later the man was arrested. It was arranged that the jailer should be busy at the time and "Dago Jim" was told by the commanding officer to search the prisoner. The first thing he found was his watch, "Dago Jim" was wild. He wanted to get a rope and hang the fellow then and there. The joke was never explained to him, but he always thought it funny that the man who robbed him was never prosecuted. "Dago Jim" has had a wild and checkrobbed him was never prosecuted.

"Dago Jim" has had a wild and checkered career. His love affairs ruined his future, but the saddest blow of all was when he was told to leave police head-quarters and never come back.

SAM WAS HOUGHY.

Alderman Hough Indignant Over His Arrest for Not Cutting Weeds on Other People's Property.

Among the property owners for whom warrants were issued Thursday for falling to mow the weeds on their premises was Alderman Sam B. Hough, The latter's arrest was all the result of a mistake committed in the assessor's office. When Officer Noland secured the numbers of the lots at Fourteenth and Olive streets on which the weeds had not been cut he repaired to the assessor's office to ascertain the name of the owner. The assessor's books show that the property was in Mr. Hough's name. After a warrant had been issued it was learned that Mr. Hough is not the owner of the property. The weeds have been mowed on all the property he owns. He voted for the passage of the weed ordinance in the city council and he did not like to be placed in the light of failing to obey a law he helped to make.

Senator R. N. Allen, of Chanute, was at the Blossom house last night. Senator Alpublican congressional committee, as well as chairman of the county central committee of Neosho county.

"I have just returned from New York, where I have been on some personal business," he said. "Kansas is sure to go Republican next year, both state and national. The people are generally for maintaining the flag in the Philippines, and the splendid good times enjoyed under the present national administration make it to the advantage of all to support Mc-Kinley." Who will be the nominee for congress in the Third district next year?

"That is a question no one is able to answer at this time, in my opinion. We have nine counties in the Third district and there are from one to three candidates from each county, with the possible exception of Wilson county, which is excongressman Kirkpatrick's home. In 1896 the Pop, or fusion majority was 4,200; in 1898 we cut it down to 1,000, and the prospects are splendid for the Republicans wiping out the remaining 1,000. That is the reason there are so many candidates for the nomination on the Republican ticket for congress. In my opinion, and I have talked with a great many of the leading Republicans in the district, on which I base my opinion, Republicans are sure of success.

"Crops in my county are generally good. My brother and I lost 4,000 bushels of wheat which was in shock, by the overflow of the Neosho river, but on a whole every-body has prospered in our section."

When they were married, January 28, 1898, she insisted upon boarding, saying that she was not strong enough to keep house. Soon she got tired of boarding and wanted to keep house. He fixed up and furnished a home for her, but she soon grew dissatisfied with that and wanted to travel about over his territory with him. They ceased to live together July 7, on account of Mrs. Rueh's alleged familiarity with other men.

City Forester Timmig believes if there were more hitching posts in the city there would be fewer trees injured from having orses hitched to them and to remedy the evil he had an ordinance drawn up compelling property owners to place hitchlen is chairman of the Third district Re- ing posts in front of their premises. On submitting it to the city counselor he was informed that even if passed it could not be enforced and in consequence he decided to adopt a new method to gain his end. Hereafter when he finds a man using a ree for a hitching post in front of his house he will give him the choice of be-ing arrested and fined or of putting up a everybody Seems to Be Busy and Many Needed Public Improvements Must Wait.

The Fourteenth Ward Improvement As ciation is becoming impatient at the delay in the construction of sewers in that part of the city, and yesterday a delegaion of members of the club appeared be fore the board of public works to see what could be done. They claimed that much of the sickness there was directly traceable to lack of sewerage. The board instructed Engineer Wise to at once prepare plans for what sewers are needed and the con tract for the work will be let as soon as possible.

tract for the work will be let as soon as possible.

One very good reason why the matter has been neglected is the immense amount of work that is going on in the city, making it next to impossible to hire men for new work. At a recent meeting the board authorized Mr. Wise to hire a couple of additional draughtsmen to help in preparing the plans for the Westport sewer system, but so far he has failed to get them, all the draughtsmen in the city apparently having more now than they can do.

The same trouble exists among contractors, who find it almost impossible to employ laborers enough to do their work. In consequence the contractors are in no hurry to accept new contracts until the work they now have in hand is finished. Wants City to Run the Station.

Fire Chief Hale was before the board of public works yesterday to urge that the city at once take possession of the fire station at the stock yards. He stated the equipment was being permitted to run down until it would be only a question of time when it is worthless.

The board has decided to ask the opinion of the city counselor on the subject. The stock yards company has already a proposition before the council asking permission to turn the station over to the city and offering to put in a new equipment if this is done. The city has a contract with the company by which the latter is bound to maintain the station, the city furnishing the men, for an indefinite period, and Mr. Middlebrook has already given an opinion that the company must carry cut its agreement. Fire Chief Hale was before the board of its agreement. Want Asphalt on Tenth Street. Cashier Rule, of the National Bank of Commerce, sent a communication to the board of public works yesterday asking that, in view of the fact that Tenth street. Main to Walnut, was being torn up to remove the street car lines, if it could not be relaid in asphalt. His reason for asking the change is that traffic on the street, when paved with stones, makes so much noise it is hard to carry on business in the bank. The board took the matter under advisement.

Will Go to the Workhouse. All the members of the board of public works are going to the workhouse this afternoon, not to do time, but to examine into the good work that has been done there since Cash Anderson was made superintendent. Mr. Anderson believes that prisoners should be made to at least earn their bread and yesterday asked the members to provide him with a stone quarry where he could turn them loose (the prisoners, not the board).

City Hall Notes.

Asphalt has been selected as the material for paving Fourth street from Broadway to Wyandottte, which the council decided to have paved as a business street. The council has opened Forty-sixth street leading up to the new driving park, but the street is still fenced in. Yesterday the board of public works consented to having the fences removed and will see that it is done.

Health Officer Benton has begun serving notices on offenders charged with violating the smoke law. He will try and get out warrants for their arrest, but does not expect to succeed as the city attorney wants to get a decision in several appealed cases before trying new ones.
